

CONGRATULATIONS

Dr. Peter Barbatis

Recipient of
The National Council for Student Development
2009 Dissertation of the Year Award

Dissertation:
“Perceptions of Underprepared Community College Students Regarding Their Educational Achievement”

FIU Ed.D. Higher Education Administration -Fall 2008

Major Professor: Dr. Ann Nevin

The National Council on Student Development (NCSA) is an affiliate council of the American Association of Community Colleges (AACCC) and the only organization solely dedicated to serving the needs of student development professionals in the community college. NCSA is the nation's primary voice for sharing knowledge, expertise, professional development and student advocacy for community college student development professionals.

Amongst other accolades, the award selection committee described Peter's dissertation as “timely and addressed leading issues in community colleges with underprepared students . . .”; “. . . could be a major contribution to Developmental Education at community colleges.”
